

Hardwearing & easy to maintain

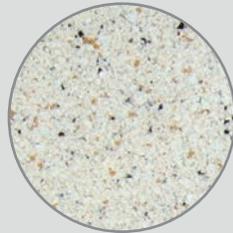

Resicrete floors are durable and extremely hardwearing. They are easy to maintain and will withstand the heaviest foot traffic and everyday spills and stains.

Being seamless means not only are our floors easy to clean, but that bacteria, dust and allergens have nowhere to hide unlike in tile grout lines, carpet fibres, timber floor cracks or damaged vinyl or linoleum.

RESICRETE™

Floors for all walks of life

Your home deserves the best

Your home deserves the best...

A Resicrete epoxy resin floor is a contemporary and stylish option for any area of your home.

Our floors are cast in place and therefore open up design possibilities not available with traditional floor coverings.

The ability to create a seamless floor across large areas and provide a hardwearing, durable surface makes Resicrete a sound alternative to traditional tiles, carpet and wooden floors.

The perfect partner for underfloor heating

Our studies have shown that Resicrete floors with underfloor heating reach the desired temperature up to 30% faster than other flooring alternatives thus increasing the efficiency of the underfloor heating system.

Introducing our fabulous new range of colours

With our exciting new range of colours we can work with you to create a unique floor perfect for any area of your home.

Our selection of contemporary colours can be used on their own or combined in a number of different ways to tone in with the surrounding environment

Our floors are custom designed to suit your requirements and can incorporate unique design features.
